FIFTEEN CENTS

Blizzard gone, but mess remains

The 10 and three-quarter inches of snow that fell on Antioch last week could not compare with the blizzard that hit town a couple of weeks ago.

But it still caused a mess.

Schools in town were closed and many people found that they could not get to work, much less out of their driveway.

The village crew had to make a repeat performance of their diligent work of clearing all the snow away — for roads, parking lots and even sidewalks.

Tom Robinson, official weather observer for the National Weather Service in Antioch reported that the snow started Tuesday night, with a five inch accumulation.

On Wednesday, the day most people were stranded at home, three more inches were added. Friday one inch of the white stuff came down and on Saturday one and three-quarter inches of snow accumulated.

Temperatures during the week ranged from a low of minus one on Friday morning to a high of 24 on Jan. 23 Robinson reported.

Antioch is likely to be headed for the greatest snow accumulation in its recorded history.

The cost of removing it from the village's streets and sidewalks from the last storm (Jan. 13 to 18) totaled $16,934, which included the materials, contract work hired out, village labor and equipment time.

Supt. of Public Works Walter Shepard said he does not have the total yet for the cost of removing last week's snowstorm.

He said he will go with Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz this Friday to a regional snow removal briefing at the Farm Bureau building in Grayslake to learn the procedures for applying for federal aid.

Since President Carter declared Lake County a disaster area, the village could be eligible for reimbursement of two-thirds of the cost of the snow removal, but Shepard said they will try to determine if they can get federal aid at the meeting.

"Hopefully, we'll get some aid," he said.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz added that she does not know yet whether the village can receive any reimbursement for clearing away last week's snow. "I don't know yet what the exact disaster timing period was. Hopefully we can qualify for anything," she said.

The public works department also had two big financial problems involving snow removal when two of its snowplows "died" last week.

An engine in one of the plows had to be replaced at a cost of $1,181 and a transmission in another had to be put in for $650.

Shepard said the public works department "still has to keep up with its other duties besides clearing away the snow."

"We had two water mains broken during the week and Monday morning another water line broke. That ties up three to four guys for half a day to fix it," he explained.

"We have to do the ordinary things — the water and sewer system has to be maintained also. Snow removal is over and above that. Since Wednesday we've had to hire additional help to get this snow cleared away," Shepard added.

Fire Chief Todd Maplethorpe said there were no major fires during the week, although last Tuesday and Wednesday "it was the worst trying to get around."

Police Chief Chuck Miller added that minor accidents this year are up about 120 percent from the same time last year.

He suggested that residents take more precaution when backing out of driveways or going around corners with high snow banks. "I encourage people to back into their driveways," he said.

Starting, towing cars keep stations busy

by Sue Nasenbeny

Lots of people may be complaining about the rotten snow and cold weather and what it's been doing to their cars.

But they have to be thankful that there are people that have to deal with their rotten car problems — the service stations.

Operators of several of Antioch's service stations contacted said they were all extremely busy during the recent snowstorm, starting cars and getting them unstuck from driveways.

Randy Sodman, manager of Al's Citgo Service on Main Street, said business has been "pretty good. We've been working longer hours and we've increased our help."

Sodman said during the worst part of the blizzard, they worked from 6 a.m. to 9 or 10 p.m.

"With the snow, the biggest problem was getting stuck and with the sub-zero temperatures, the biggest problem was that cars wouldn't start," he explained.

He said on one particularly terrible day, the station handled from 50 to 75 car problems. "There were cars standing all over the place waiting to get in," Sodman added.

"They are finally getting caught up now," he said. "Now we're waiting for the next snowstorm to hit."

George Braddock Jr. of George's Texaco in the Orchard Shopping Plaza said "everybody and their brother's car wouldn't start" during the sub-zero temperatures.

During the snowstorm, he said "most people got stuck in their driveway!"

On one of the worst cold days, when temperatures dipped to 20 below zero,

Braddock said the station was out starting cars from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. and had to deal with 40 to 50 cars.

He said their truck got stuck itself in the thick snow on some calls for snowplowing driveways and getting cars unstuck.

"Now we're finally starting to catch up on some of the back log of the major engine work," Braddock added.

Norm's Standard Service at Rtes. 59 and 173 was "jam-packed," during the snowstorm last week, owner Norm Van Rooyen said.

The station operates 24 hours and was busy snowplowing or getting cars unstuck from roads and driveways. "Most of the people that called wanted to get out right now instead of waiting," he added.

Gus Mancuso, owner of Mancuso's Standard Service on Main Street, said simply, "We were busy."

"The snowstorm was bad for everybody. It was so severe that we had to turn down about 20 to 30 calls a day at one time."

"There were too many cars to work on. We went out to start cars and to get them unstuck from driveways," he added.

Ray Fridrich of Ray's Shell Station on Lake Street said his station was "going nuts" with calls.

"The biggest problem was that people were calling everybody for help and then went with the first one that got there. That made us make wasted trips," he pointed out.

Fridrich added that his regular customers did not do that but others caused him to make "empty trips."

Since his station is open 24 hours, he said "just about everybody is over-worked."

Village decides flooding problem is priority

Solving the village storm water drainage problem will be a "priority project" this year in Antioch, the village board decided.

At a committee meeting Monday night, Trustee Vern Barnstable said, "I think we've all decided that the drainage is going to be our No. 1 priority. How we're going to do it, that's the next thing."

Village Engineer Frank Angelotti last week made four proposals to the board involving priority projects for the year.

The board decided reditching Sequoit Creek from Rte. 173 to Hillside Avenue, to control storm water flooding in the area, would be the most beneficial to the village.

The cost of the project would be about $188,000, but the board said working toward that goal in increments would be the most feasible solution.

Mayor Mike Haley said, "What's so bad about doing it $50,000 at a time?" He said a retention station east of the Soo Line railroad tracks could help solve the flooding problem, and suggested that phase of the project could be relatively inexpensive.

Supt. of Public Works Walt Shepard said, "We've got to get the water out of town." He suggested, to begin with, starting at the east end of the creek and working upstream to fix the flooding problem.

Trustee Don Amundsen said the village has some money to work with, "but when we spend" it we're restricting other projects. We may have to cut back on some of our other services or needs."

Postmen determined despite snow drifts

Through rain and snow and sleet and hail ... and even the coldest day in 75 years or the worst blizzard in memory, the postmen pull through.

Wayne C. Van Heirsele, Antioch's postmaster, said, "It's a lot harder to deliver mail when you have to contend with drifting, plowing and shoveling" all the snow.

"It's really quite a problem, especially in the rural areas, to have the boxes free for the drivers to get to," he explained.

He said that in some cases, people haven't had the opportunity to plow their boxes free.

However, he said Antioch's village crew has been very busy and cooperative plowing roads. "They're trying to do their best."

Van Heirsele noted that sometimes people work at shoveling their mailboxes free, only to have the snowplows come by later and bury them once again, he added.

however, that the snowplows "are only doing their job."

For those that live in rural areas, he said "if they know it's going to be a few days to get to their mailboxes, we'll be happy to hold it in the office here (on Orchard Street) so they can get their mail."

"Otherwise, the rural carriers will take it out until they can get through," he added.

Van Heirsele then pointed out, "What we need is a break in the weather for a week. We really haven't had a break yet."

"If the major snow stays away we can effectively deliver mail again," he added.

"It's been a hard winter but overall the people of Antioch have been very good about it."

Clear away snow from gas meter

Because of heavy snowfall and icy conditions, Northern Illinois Gas is asking customers to clear any accumulated snow away from the gas meter, regulator, regulator vent and gas shutoff valve.

This will be helpful in assuring safe, uninterrupted service.

The company outlined some helpful suggestions:

---Become familiar with location of meter, regulator, regulator vent, and shutoff valve.

---Clear snow and ice from meter and regulator to ensure proper operation.

---Exercise care when clearing meter assembly to avoid disturbing gas service line. Avoid using shovel or metal instrument when working close to meters. Use broom to brush away snow and ice.

---Make sure the gas shutoff valve is accessible and visible. this is used to stop gas from entering the home in emergencies.

---Mark location of meter and regulator when snow plowing driveways and parking lots to avoid damaging the meter, regulator and gas line.

McClory seeks relief for added snows

Congressman Robert McClory, R-13th District, is giving strong support to Gov. Thompson's request for an extension of the President's Emergency Declaration for a number of counties in Northern Illinois, including Lake County, due to the severe additional snowstorms which began late Tuesday, Jan. 23.

The Federal Defense Assistance Administration (FDAA) is not making any extension on the basis of the storm during the last two days, but the request is not officially denied.

McClory said, "I understand the FDAA is holding the extension request in the event continuing snowstorms in the next few days create what they consider sufficient severity to be considered an emergency."

"I am very disappointed that an extension has not been immediately granted, but I will continue to work toward a further extension of the emergency declaration."

Congressman McClory continued, "Last Friday, Jan. 19, I contacted the Director of the FDAA in support of the Governor's request that the Emergency Declaration be retroactive two days and extended until the snow could be removed."

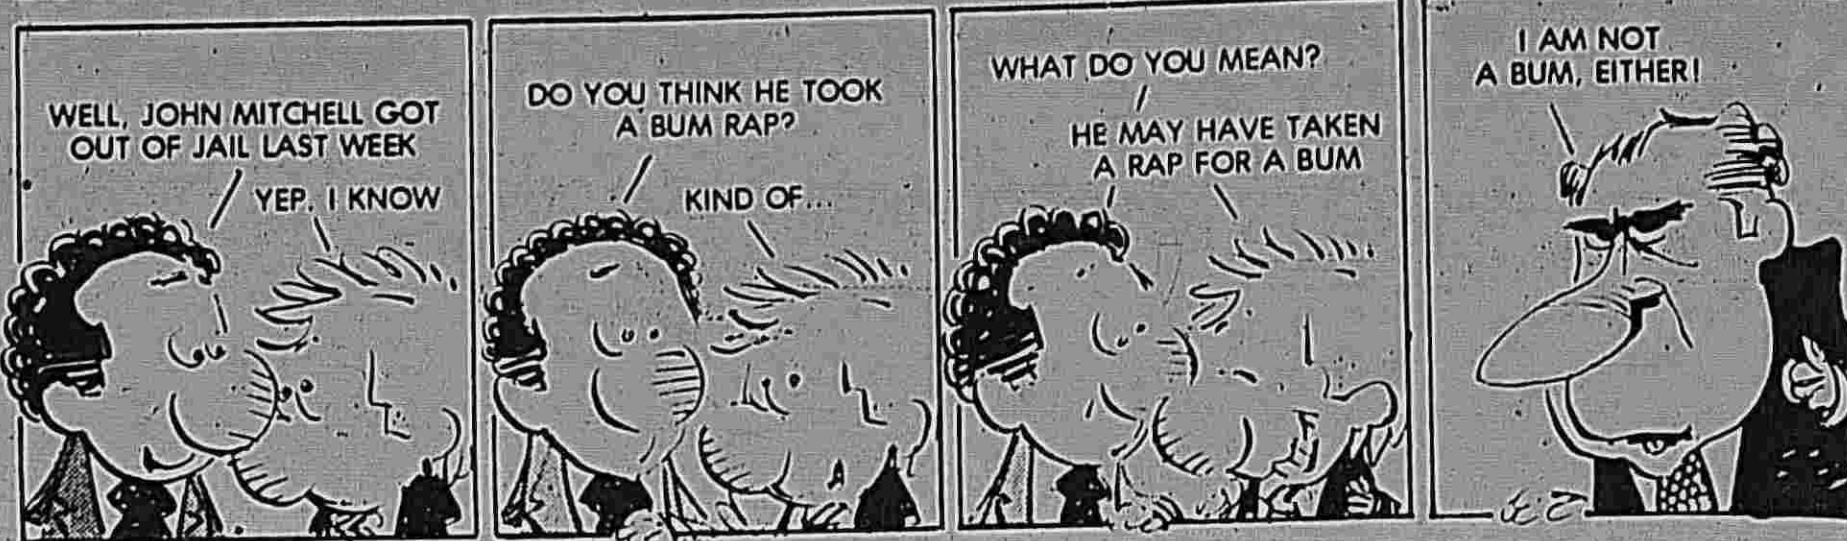

"As you know, due to interpretation of the law, FDAA found it impossible to make the Emergency Declaration retroactive, but a three-day extension was granted to Kane and Lake Counties and a one-day extension was granted to McHenry County, based on inspections to determine the length of time needed to complete snow removal of major access roads."

"Since there is a problem related to legislation," Congressman McClory continued, "today I introduced legislation in the U.S. House of Representatives to amend the Disaster Relief Act of 1974 so that the aid would be effective with the onset of a disaster, and making this clarification of the law retroactive to Jan. 1, 1979."

"Similar legislation has been introduced in the Senate by Sen. Stevenson and Sen. Percy."

Congressman McClory said, "I have also requested of the Small Business Administration (SBA) and the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) that all possible assistance be provided due to this emergency."

the SOVEREIGN STATE of AFFAIRS

Stevenson introduces emergency bill

Statement by Senator Adlai E. Stevenson in the U.S. Senate:

Mr. President: Last week, northern Illinois was crippled by a blizzard which dumped 16 inches of snow on top of 17 inches already on the ground.

The storm started on Friday, Jan. 12. The snow stopped falling on Sunday, Jan. 14, and then resumed intermittently through the end of the week. Roads were impassable.

Hundreds of businesses and schools were closed. Thousands were cut off from essential services. I am sure my colleagues saw television coverage of the desperate conditions in Chicago. In rural areas, farms were isolated and farmers were unable to reach and feed their livestock.

On Tuesday, Jan. 16, President Carter declared a snow emergency in 22 counties in response to a request from Illinois' Governor filed on Monday night. Two additional counties have since been added. Federal aid is primarily in the form of two-thirds cost-sharing for snow removal activities.

Under present policies of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration federal aid begins at 12:01 a.m. on the day of the President's declaration.

However, many communities in Illinois mobilized on Saturday to clear the snow and accomplished much of the work before the emergency declaration went into effect on Tuesday.

By meeting the challenge with speed and efficiency, many of these communities removed enough snow to mitigate the threat to public health and safety but depleted their budgets and exhausted their capacity to conduct normal snow-related services for the remainder of the winter.

These communities are not eligible for federal reimbursement for the work completed prior to 12:01 a.m. Tuesday under FDAA regulations.

Despite their efficiency, they are wrongly being denied assistance available to neighboring communities which were not able to complete snow removal before 12:01 a.m. Tuesday.

This inequity stems from a decision of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration, not from the law. The Disaster Assistance Act of 1974 does not defer federal assistance to the day on which the President signs the proclamation.

The Congress intended to provide assistance during an emergency and certainly did not intend to set up an artificial and arbitrary scheme for measuring the onset of the emergency.

The bill I am introducing would correct this inequity. It would make clear the intent of Congress that emergency assistance is available for the duration of the emergency or major disaster, regardless of the day on which the President declares the existence of the emergency.

The President's declaration is inevitably delayed until a State has been able to compile the necessary information from its local communities and to transmit its request.

The more serious the emergency, the more likely the compilation of data will be delayed because officials must deal with immediate threats to life and property before red tape.

Officials of FDAA must then examine a State's request for assistance before conveying it to the President. These procedures invite delay when local communities are making the most intense and expensive efforts.

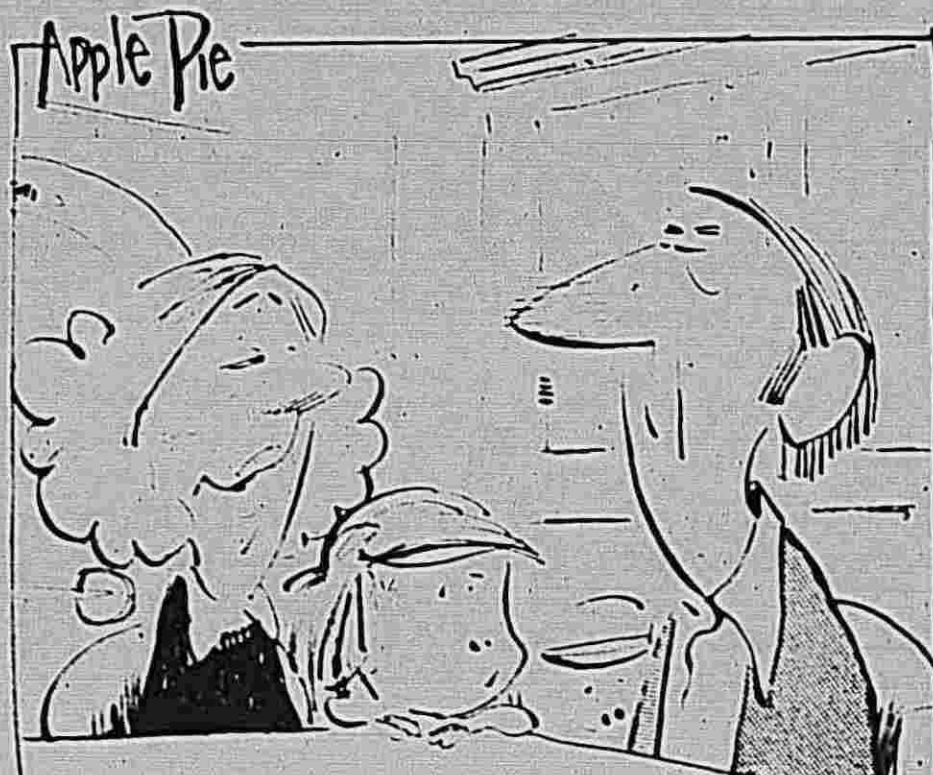

Congress did not intend that aid for citizens in distress would be conditioned on the timely completion of bureaucratic formalities.

This bill clarifies the obvious intent of Congress — to aid those in distress. I hope the Carter Administration will carry out the intent of Congress and obviate the need for this bill.

When he came to the table still tying his tie, he looked at his plate and grumbled, "You scrambled the wrong egg!"

Emergency blizzard loans available

President Carter declared 22 Illinois Counties disaster areas because of severe snow storms beginning Jan. 12 through Jan. 14, 1979.

Farmers sustaining physical property losses such as buildings, equipment and livestock or production losses may apply for Farmers Home Administration Emergency Loans at a 5 percent interest rate up to the amount of their actual losses.

Additional loans needed to restore farms to operating conditions are available at higher rates to those with qualifying losses.

Applications for physical property losses must be filed by Oct. 15, 1979 and production loss applications must be filed by Jan. 18, 1980.

Loans are available in designated counties and in adjoining counties.

Applications for Lake County are being received at Farmers Home Administration, 8108 Appleton Rd., Belvidere, Ill. 61008, where they will be screened.

This will determine if applicants meet the eligibility requirement of being unable to obtain essential credit from other sources.

Miss Antioch candidate

Gigi Lignowski has a busy life

Blonde, brown-eyed Gigi Lignowski, 19, goes to college full-time while holding two part-time jobs which she said keeps her "busy and out of trouble."

A candidate for the Miss Antioch title, Gigi is a sophomore at the College of Lake County with a major in business administration.

She also works as a teller at the State Bank of Antioch and helps her family at their business, Nielsen's Restaurant on Rte. 59.

The petite 5 foot 3 inch contestant said her family owned a home in Antioch where they spent their summers "ever since I was tiny." They also spent winter weekends in the village.

Gigi and her family spent the rest of the year in Chicago, where she graduated from Resurrection High School.

She said her parents had their first boat on the Chain of Lakes when they were married and kept coming back every summer. About eight months ago they decided to make living here permanent.

Gigi said she has friends in both of the places she's lived, although "I wouldn't go back to the city. I really love Antioch. Everyone here is on a one-to-one basis and I love that."

She said she enjoys both her jobs because they involve meeting and getting to know people.

Some of her hobbies include jogging, snow skiing, water skiing and ceramics. And what she really enjoys is dancing.

"I like to dance all the time!" she admitted. She practices disco dancing weekly and fuses modern dance with jazz dance - and will perform some of her dancing in the talent portion of the contest.

Gigi is the daughter of John and MaryAnn Lignowski and has one brother, Jack, 15 who attends Antioch High School and one sister, Debbie, 22, who is married and lives in Lindenhurst.

King Winter certainly has his throne in Antioch. Today is the last day of January. There have been 31 extremely wintry days this month. Not a day when there was not ice and snow. January thaw? Board okays new buses, bleachers

Contracts for two high school buses and permanent bleachers for the visitors' side of the football field were awarded by the Antioch High School Board of Education last week.

The contracts for the buses totaled $29,926 and included the trade-in of two of the high school's used buses.

The contract for the permanent bleachers, which should be ready for next fall, was awarded to the Medalist Company of Michigan and totaled $14,653. Supt. Warren Polley said they will seat 500 people and they match the bleachers the school has currently.

Also, portable bleachers for the baseball and field hockey fields were approved to be constructed by the same company at a cost of $1,975. They will each have a seating capacity of about 50 people.

The total cost of the permanent and portable bleachers was $16,628.

Also at the meeting, the board decided to have two days of student attendance on April 3 and April 16 to make up for snow emergency days.

Polley said the high school has used up four of its five emergency days it has been allotted for the year. "This is the first time in many years that the high school has used four emergency days," he explained.

In order to give some insurance that the school will have more than one emergency day left, the board decided to take two of the vacation days allotted for the spring and add the days as "padding" for emergency days.

In case the high school will need emergency days again this year, especially with about two months of potential blizzard conditions left, they will have three days available, Polley said.

Also at the meeting, five people were reported to be honored at a Recognition Tea on Jan. 22 for their years of service to the high school.

Bette M. Meyer, secretary to the board of education, made the following presentations:

Fifteen year awards to teachers: Ralph G. Brooke, Gilbert E. Krahn, Edward L. Kurek and Elaine M. Weidner. Thirty year award: Porter A. Larson, who is supervisor of maintenance and transportation.

Also, the board set 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 6, as the date for commencement ceremonies.

Rev. Kub celebrates Mass in Holy Name Cathedral

Cardinal John Cody of the Chicago Archdiocese recently presided over a Ruthenian Byzantine Divine Liturgy in Holy Name Cathedral celebrated by Rev. Francis Q. Kub of St. Peter's Church in Antioch.

Rev. John Kurty, dean of the Chicago Ruthenian Byzantine Deanery, was main celebrant of the Liturgy along with Rev. Kub and two other Byzantine priests from the Chicago area.

The Liturgy was in observance of Week of Christian Unity Octave.

Rev. Kub was the Homilist and spoke of a family (Catholic Church) being divided into Orthodox, Protestant and Catholic sections and to strive to bring the family (different faiths) together again (Chirsitan Unity).

The Mid-west Byzantine Choir under the Direction of Prof. John Kahanick of Merrillville, Ind. sang the responses to the Liturgy.

At the conclusion of the Liturgy, Cardinal Cody gave praise of the Byzantine-Rite of the Catholic Church which is in Union with the Pope of Rome. The Cardinal stated that on Jan. 25 he was scheduled to meet with Pope John Paul II in Mexico and give him the souvenir program of the Byzantine Liturgy at the Cathedral.

He said he knows the Pope encourages usage of the Byzantine Rite Mass and the Pope will be pleased to learn of the Byzantine Churches in the Chicago area which Cardinal Cody will inform him about.

Refreshments followed the Liturgy and all present were introduced to the Cardinal. He met three members of the Byzantine-Rite community of Antioch and encouraged their efforts to establish a Mission Church in that area under Rev. Kub's guidance.

The Cardinal spoke highly of Rev. Kub's help among the Byzantine-Rite Catholics and encouraged him to continue to help them.

On Friday, Feb. 2 the Byzantine-Rite faithful will celebrate the blessing of candles. For further information on the Byzantine Rite in the Antioch area, write to Rev. Kub, 557 Lake St., Antioch.

Safety tips

Heavy traffic at intersections can polish ice and snow to a hard glaze, says the National Safety Council.

Prepare yourself for a controlled stop by slowing down well ahead of every intersection.

Exhaust leaks can be deadly for the driver in a closed car. Check muffler and tailpipe occasionally during the winter to be sure they're in good condition.

And for extra safety, keep a window partially open, urges the National Safety Council.

Oversteering on ice causes most skids. The National Safety Council suggests you anticipate your turns, and make them gradually to avoid skidding at corners and intersections.

Still has lots of pep

Mrs. Gaston celebrates 90th birthday

by Sue Nasenbony

Mrs. Margaret Gaston first came to Antioch in 1926 when she and her husband Homer bought the Antioch News. She had a lot of pep then.

And now, 53 years later, as she celebrated her 90th birthday on Jan. 21st — she still has quite a bit of pep. And independence.

"I can still do a lot of things," she said, quite simply. "I do some cooking and cleaning. And I didn't quit driving until I was 88."

Mrs. Gaston, besides helping her husband on the business end of the Antioch News, kept the newspaper going when he died in 1943 and then finally sold it in 1971 because she was ill.

"It was a job, but I loved it," she admitted.

Mrs. Gaston was originally from Southern Illinois, the second oldest of 11 children. She married Homer Gaston in 1908 in Vincennes, Ind.

They first came to the northern section of the state in 1918. "Homer was in the printing business and he had an offer to buy the Richmond Gazette," she explained.

After churning out that paper for eight years, they came to Antioch to buy the newspaper there.

IN A FRAME building on Main Street, Mrs. Gaston "took care of the business for the Antioch News. I would run down stories and write society news," she said.

"I didn't write news stories. And I didn't write 'Annie Mae.' A lot of people thought I wrote 'Annie Mae,' but I didn't. We kept it a secret, though."

"Betty Meyer," who was a crackerjack at writing, wrote that column," she added with a smile. "And lots of people bought the paper just to read Annie Mae."

Her husband Homer, "was a wonderful writer. He knew all about printing too."

When Homer died at 60 years of age, Mrs. Gaston's oldest son Howard, who is now retired in Naples, Fla., helped her produce the paper.

"A lot of people seemed to think I was doing fine," she noted. "Some didn't believe I could do all those things. I had a lot of pep."

"I had fun on the paper and I had lots of friends."

MRS. GASTON ALSO belonged to several community clubs, which kept her busy. She belonged to the United Methodist Church of Antioch and was president of the Ladies' Society, Eastern Star and member of the Antioch Women's Club.

When Homer died, she said, "I didn't give much thought to remarrying. I was too busy all the time. And once you're really in love with somebody, you can't really love others. I never even thought of such a thing."

Besides Mrs. Gaston said she had lots of children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and even great-great grandchildren to keep her company.

She had three sons and one daughter with Homer: Howard, who lives in Naples, Fla., Robert who is retired in Mesa, Ariz., Harold, who owns A & B Printing in Antioch and Elizabeth, who passed away in 1971.

She also has 10 grandchildren, one of whom lives in Antioch — Walt Shepard, who is superintendent of public works. She also has 20 great-grandchildren, five of whom are Mr. and Mrs. Shepard's: Kevin, Karen, Katherine, Kris and Karla. All attend schools in Antioch.

She even has two little, great-great-grandchildren who live in Crystal Lake. Josh and Heather Krepel.

BUY WHY DOES Mrs. Gaston stay in Antioch, especially when she could be down south with her children enjoying the southern sunshine instead of fighting this winter?

"I hated to give up my home," she explained. "We bought this house in 1941 and I still like it. It's nice and roomy and there's lots of trees. Besides, the cold weather doesn't bother me. I'm not out in it much."

She said when she first retired she drove away for the winter, visiting friends and relatives in California, Florida and Arizona. Now she said she enjoys the winters in Antioch.

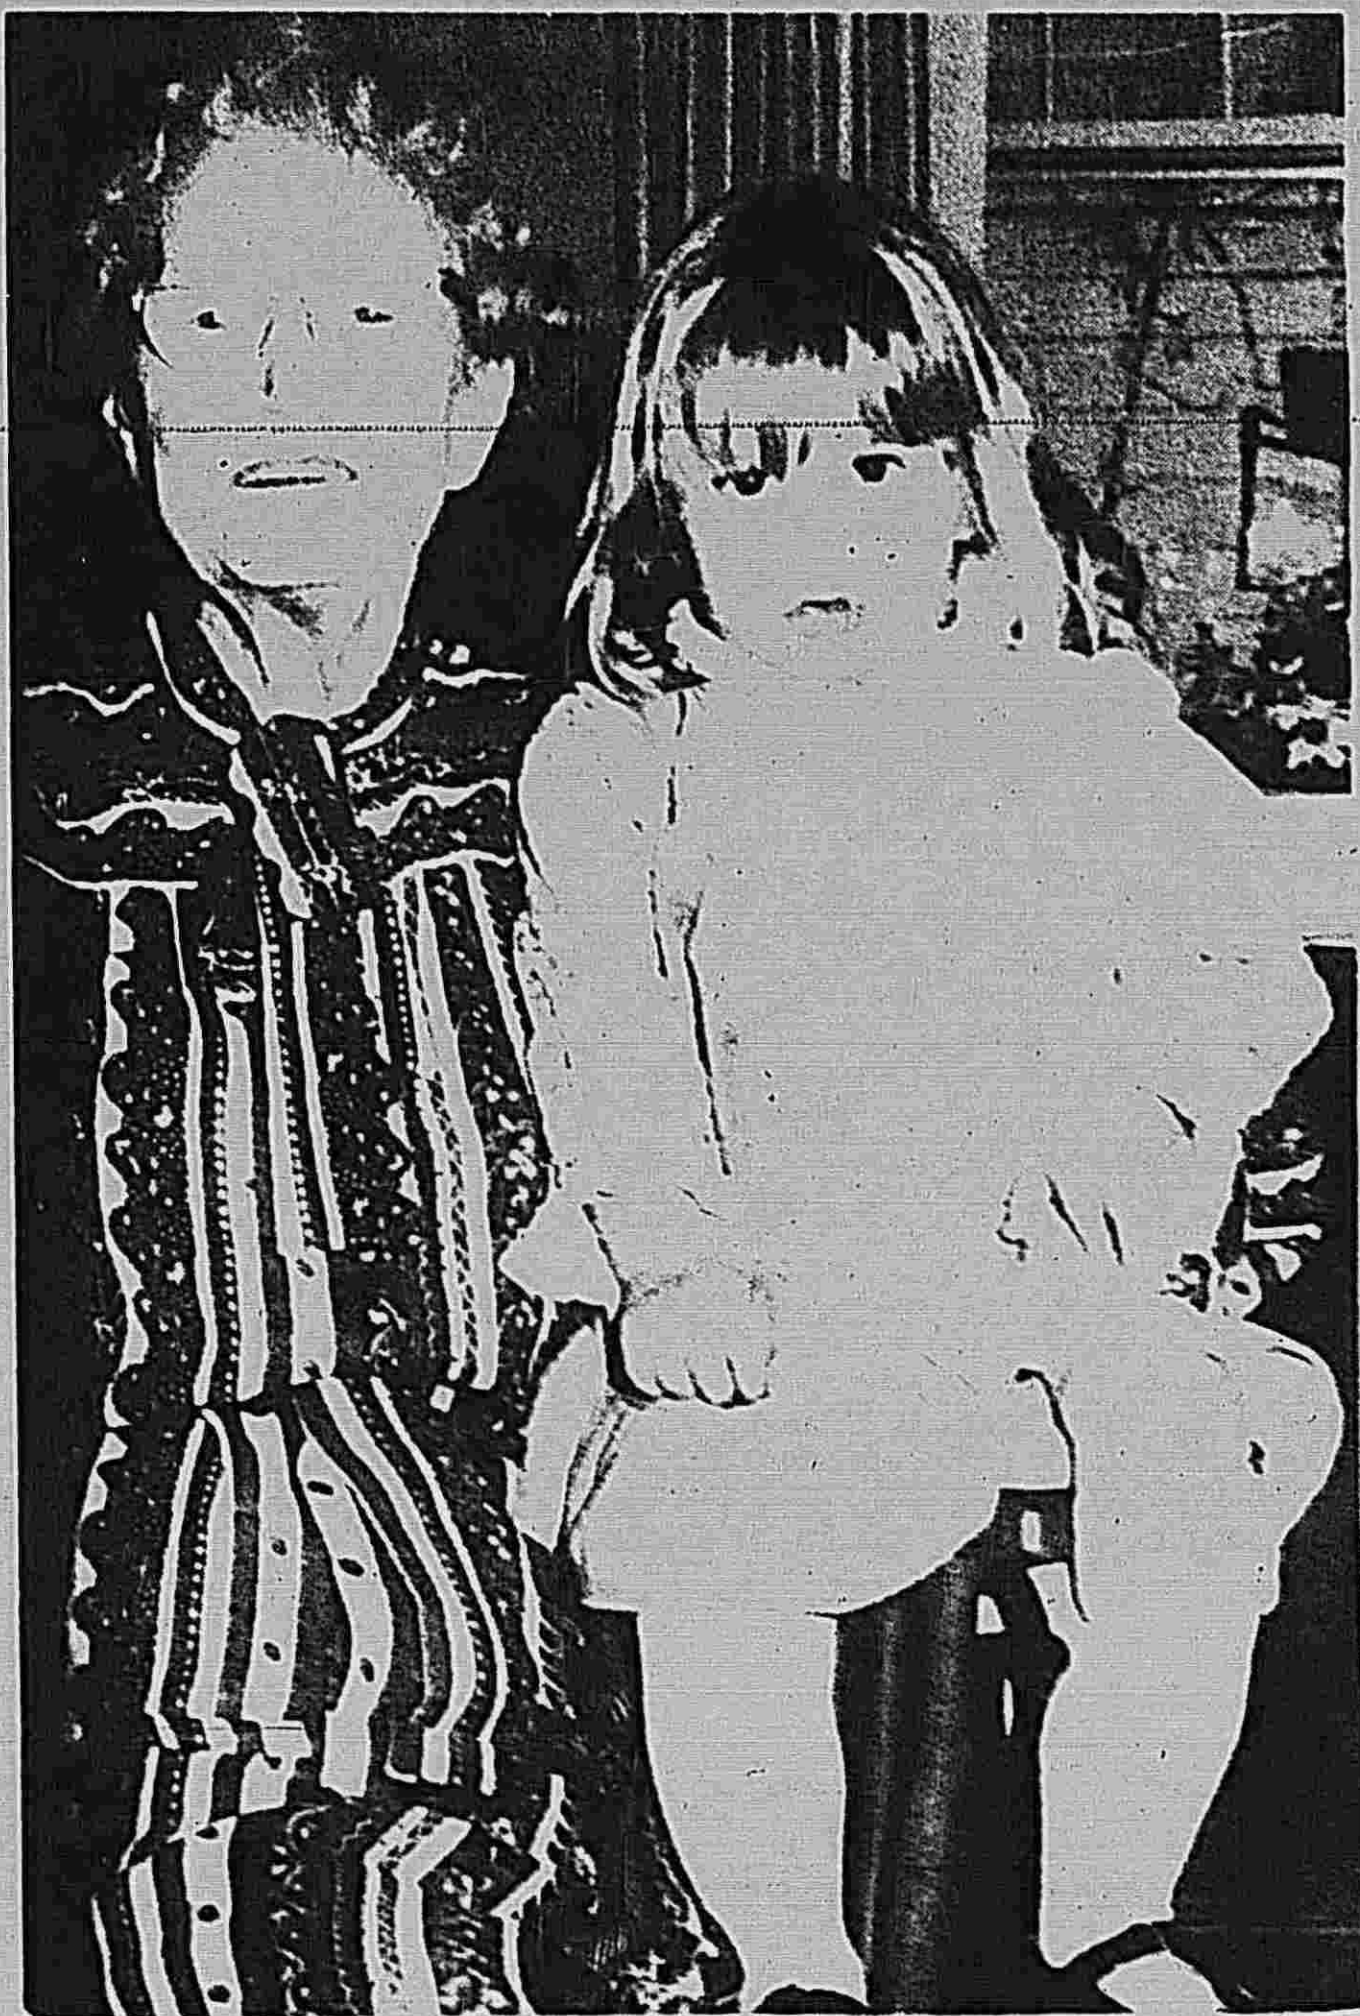

And she's only seen the snow this high one time before in the village. "And then it was so deep you couldn't see cars coming the other way."

The village, she said, has changed, "immensely for the better. And I don't know how many times bigger. There were 500 people when I first moved here."

And since 1926, when she first moved to the village, the people have come to know and love the pretty and petite woman who could be the sweetest and kindest person in town.

But she could also hold her own if she had to.

Maybe that's why she was so successful.

Little Known Facts

With the flowering of the theory that talk and music help plants flourish, it is not exactly a surprise that there's a Funny Forum album out called "Vegetation Conversation: Music and Thoughts for Things in Pots." Among the numbers are "Oh, the Coleus" and "No Matter How Fertile, There's No Place Like Loam."

A good way to make your music collection grow is to tape music you hear on the radio and friends' records.

While opera buffs are generally considered sedate and appreciative, audiences at Milan's famed La Scala opera house have been known to express their displeasure at a singer's performance by hurling shoes and other objects on stage.

'Something's Afoot' at PM&L

"Something's Afoot," a new British musical whodunit, will be PM&L Theatre's next production premiering Feb. 10.

Written by James McDonald, David Vos and Robert Gerlach, it's an Agatha Christie-type murder mystery set to music. The PM&L production is directed by Ken Smouse, with Tracy T. Kiederlen directing the orchestra and Lyn Kessie as choreographer.

The playdates are at 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays, Feb. 10, 16, 17, 23 and 24 at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St. in Antioch.

As this show is a whodunit, the director said he could not tell who did it, or even who did what. However, he did include what the play featured.

From Antioch, the cast includes: Tricia Schaefer as Lettie the maid; Bill Serzhon as Flint the caretaker; Rosline Scheske, as the ingenue Hope Langdon; Ken Scheske as Dr. Grayburn the family doctor; Irene Hahn as Lady Grace Manley-Prowe, a remarkably grande dame; Paul Biel, as Col. Gillweather, an old army man; and Aileen Biel as Miss Tweed, an amateur detective.

Also, Al Kessie of Richmond as the butler; Bruce Stamm of Round Lake Beach as Nigel Rancour, a dissolute nephew; and David Krostal of Lindenhurst as Geoffrey, the juvenile, will be featured.

The director added, "Probably you are best advised to suspect all of these people of anything."

"When you stop to think that you have probably never before seen a murder mystery that was a musical, complete with songs and dances, you will realize the urgent necessity of seeing the PM&L production of "Something's Afoot," he said.

For reservations, call 395-3055. "Be sure to appear at the box office no later than 8:15 on the night you plan to take on the foot-stomping task of solving the mystery," the director added.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Most people head south for the winter, but not Peggy and Glenn Cosco.

Glenn has lived here for 19 years and Peggy has been in Antioch for the past six years, ever since she married Glenn. They're moving to Grand Rapids, Mich., where their children are located and where Mrs. Cosco is originally from.

Peggy told me she's hoping the weather is going to be better than it was a couple of weeks ago up there.

She told me, "If you think you got snow here — you should see it in Grand Rapids! But I know spring is right around the corner and I like the four seasons anyway."

They are headed north next week and I wish them the best.

I FORGOT TO MENTION the birthday of one of Antioch's finest ladies last week! Margaret Gaston was 90 years old on Jan. 21st. She had a houseful of people there too — spanning five generations — including her son Harold, who owns A & B Printing and her grandson Walt Shepard, who is superintendent of public works.

I'm sure Margaret had a wonderful time.

WE HEARD THE names of the lucky people who won prizes at the Gilded Cage for the Grand Opening. Bev Reckers won the beautiful picture of the sawmill and Wayne and Kathy Sobczak won the $20 gift certificate. Congrats you lucky people!

SVEN ANDERSON HAS another grandchild! His son David and daughter-in-law who live in McHenry had a baby boy, Ryan David, on Jan. 5 in Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge.

Little Ryan weighed eight pounds, 12 ounces when he came into the world. He'll come home to sister Kristin Erin, who is three years old. Congratulations grandpa!

LUCKY MARY CAIN!! Yesterday morning she was fortunate enough to get through to Wally Phillips of WGN Radio. Her guess at the secret word was right and Mary receives $100.00. I'll never know how she thought of it. The word was "beach!"

I UNDERSTAND our favorite local Superman is all strung out. Could it be that the Cryptonite is starting to work?

Canadian brass to perform at CLC Feb. 17

Brass and class will be combined when the Canadian Brass performs at the College of Lake County at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 17.

The concert, sponsored by the Performing Arts Series Committee in cooperation with the Activities Office at CLC, will be held in the Orange Court at CLC's Grayslake campus.

The five-piece group, all members of the Hamilton Philharmonic, has toured worldwide entertaining audiences in Canada, Puerto Rico, China and the U.S.A.

The Brass — two trumpets, a French horn, a trombone and a tube — will present both popular and classical selections.

Tickets, $2 for CLC students and $3.50 for the community, are now available. Reduced group-rate tickets may also be purchased in advance.

For more information on tickets, call Edward Snyder, director of student activities, at 223-6601, ext. 410.

St. Peter's Women's Club to meet

St. Peter's Women's Club monthly meeting will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 6 at 7:30 p.m. beginning with prayers in St. Peter's Church followed by a business meeting and program in the church hall.

Robert Gagnon of "Timber Tables" will present a talk on Redwood Burl from the Sequoia wood.

Sunday, Feb. 11, the ladies of the parish are invited to participate in Communion Mass at 9:30 a.m. followed by breakfast in the church hall.

On Saturday evening, Feb. 10 and Sunday, Feb. 11 after all masses, a bake sale sponsored by the St. Peter's Women's Club will be held.

FINANCIAL NEWS

[Editor's Note: This financial news column is designed for the general education of our readers. Mr. Schaub, assistant vice president of the Antioch Savings & Loan Association, will discuss areas such as taxes, insurance, investments and financial planning in general.]

Buried deep in most homeowner's insurance policies are liability coverages.

These are rarely explained to the person buying the insurance. Insurance companies hope we'll never use them, even when they could be used.

I want to talk today about the medical payments coverage. It's usually either $500 or $1,000 per person injured and usually $25,000 per incident. If you have a party and the roof falls in, the company would pay up to the smaller limit for each person and up to $25,000 for the whole group.

You don't have to be sued for someone to collect on medical payments liability coverage. There is a separate, larger amount which covers liability in general.

That type, where you do have to be sued, will be discussed in a separate column.

MEDICAL PAYMENTS coverage pays only for the medical treatment a person needs after he is injured under one of the following conditions:

- He's hurt while on your property with your permission.
- He's hurt while off the premises, but because of a condition in the insured location or the ways immediately adjoining. (For example, ice falling off your tree onto someone on the sidewalk.)
- He's hurt by an animal owned by you or under your care.
- He's hurt because of an activity of an insured (you or your family). Not all activities are covered. See your policy for your company's restrictions.

INJURY TO SOMEONE who lives in the house is not covered. This is liability coverage, not medical coverage, which leads me to my next point — don't pay the bills.

Philip Schaub

Let's say the mailman trips on your child's toy and twists his ankle. You can take him to the hospital, have the ankle treated, and your homeowner's policy will pay for it up to the medical payments limit (the $500 or $1,000). You have to be careful.

Down in all the fine print, all insurance companies put a clause that says they will not pay any amounts for liability that are "voluntarily paid by the insured."

If you pay the hospital bill and send it to your insurance company, you will not get a dime. If the mailman pays the bill and then sends it to the company, he'll get reimbursed.

All the insurance companies feel that paying the bill yourself would be like admitting guilt. Then, if the person does sue you later, you're in a very difficult position.

Let me say again that I am not a lawyer. Specific questions on this matter should be directed to your insurance agent or broker, or to your attorney.

THIS COLUMN is meant for the general education of Antioch News readers. If you have comments or general questions you would like to see answered in this column, you can write to me either here at the Antioch News or at my office with Antioch Savings and Loan Association.

Illinois homeowners to collect $50 million in storm damages

Early estimates indicate that Illinois homeowners will collect in excess of $50 million from their insurance companies to cover damage to their homes and property as a result of the big Blizzard of '79.

The Illinois Insurance Information Service reported that the estimate was based on projections from industry sources and does not include auto accident claims or large commercial claims which would push the figure considerably higher.

"This is an early estimate and most certainly it will be revised, upward when all the claims are in," Robert G. Schultz, executive vice president of the information service, said.

He pointed out that some storm-related insurance claims may not show up for weeks or months. "It's what the industry calls a long-tail situation," he said.

Many of the claims already filed involve collapsed roofs or other structural damage caused by the weight of snow and ice. Some involve damage from water backup caused by clogged gutters.

"Remember, there is still a lot of snow on roofs and it's highly likely we'll have more before this stuff melts," Schultz said. "And with more snow added to the accumulation many more roofs could go."

To keep up with the heavy load of storm-damage claims, several Illinois insurance companies have put into effect special "catastrophe plans" in which teams of experts are assigned just to process claims.

"Most companies want to settle claims just as quickly as possible, but they are trying to give top priority to those involving living quarters," said Schultz.

"If you have questions about a storm claim or the kind of coverage you have, call your agent or your insurance company."

Safety tips

Adjust your speed down for rainy weather and bad roads. Remember: the 55 mile per hour national speed limit is for ideal dry pavement conditions only, says the National Safety Council.

Don't stop short, says the National Safety Council. Be prepared to stop at every intersection in case the other driver doesn't — even if it's your right-of-way.

Use your safety belts, even on short drives, urges the National Safety Council. Occupant restraints are your family's best protection against serious injury.

Snowstorm aid available for small business

Information about Small Business Administration snow storm disaster programming now will be available throughout Illinois on a toll-free "800" telephone number.

John L. Smith, SBA's Illinois District Director, said the number - 800-972-3177 became operative Jan. 25.

The entire state was declared an Economic Injury Disaster area by the federal agency on Jan. 19.

The declaration opens the way for small businesses placed in a position of jeopardy as a result of the storms to qualify for low-interest, long-term loans, made or guaranteed by SBA.

"This declaration does not cover homes," Smith said. "It is applicable only to small businesses and farms, and only those which have been placed in a position of some jeopardy as a result of the loss."

Under the Economic Disaster declaration, Smith said, "funds from loans made by or obtained through SBA may be used to provide working capital and pay financial obligations which the borrower would have been able to meet had it not been for the disaster."

According to Smith, the interest rate on any SBA share of a loan made in this connection is 7-3/8 percent.

"The programming can be thoroughly explained by our disaster loan officers," Smith said. "I would urge that they be contacted over the toll-free line."

The wheel was unknown to the pre-Columbian American Indians.

Safety tips

Sleepy drivers cause accidents, says the National Safety Council. On a long trip, stay alert and alive by taking an occasional rest break.

Take a quick tip from the National Safety Council. Avoid tailgating the car ahead. Allow one car length between you for every 10 miles of speed.

Stay well to the right of the center line -- except when passing.

As you drive, avoid sudden stops and lane changing. Signal your intentions.

Energy-saving tax credit

Homeowners and renters who have made energy-saving home improvements are eligible for a tax credit of up to $300 under the new National Energy Tax Act, Laurie Boom, Lake County Extension home energy adviser said.

The $300 credit represents a 15 percent allowance on the first $2,000 spent on such improvements.

It is available to those who have taken home energy conservation measures from April 20, 1977 through December 31, 1985. Condominiums and cooperatives are included in the credit. Boom said, if used as a principal residence. Vacation homes are not included.

Also available for a non-refundable credit are investments in solar, wind and other renewable energy sources.

This credit is 30 percent of the first $2,000 and 20 percent of the next $8,000 spent, for a maximum of $2,200.

Any investment from April 20, 1977 through December 31, 1985 will qualify if the equipment is used to heat or cool a home or provide hot water.

Boom said persons with questions about the tax credit should call their local Internal Revenue Service office. She also encouraged those interested in taking advantage of the tax to come in to the Extension office on Rte. 45 in Grayslake for insulation and weatherstripping information.

To start car, warm up engine night before

Prolonged frigid winter weather often can immobilize your car, the Chicago Motor Club - AAA warned.

This is particularly true for those cars which may not be used over a weekend, or are not parked in garages.

David Bufka, manager of the Chicago Motor Club's emergency road service department, suggested one way to help assure a start is to warm up the car's engine the night before.

Bufka suggests that the engine be allowed to warm up long enough for warm air to come from the car's heater. He said the best time to do this is just before retiring, especially if the car has not been used during the day in bitterly cold weather.

Because of the dangers of carbon monoxide, motorists are warned not to remain in their autos during the warmup period if the cars are garaged or in an enclosed area.

Car warmup should be done only in well-ventilated areas. It is advisable to move the car out of the garage during the warmup period, as wind conditions could cause car fumes to affect the driver or seep into the house.

Autos never should be warmed up in an enclosed garage with the garage doors shut and any person inside.

Motorists warming their cars are advised that many states, including Illinois and Indiana, have enacted laws against leaving a car unattended while the motor is running at the curb or in public places.

Sequoits need win Friday to stay in race for title

What is the coldest and least entertaining thing in Antioch?

Winter.

What is one of the hottest and most entertaining things? The Northwest Suburban Conference basketball race.

IT RESUMES FRIDAY NIGHT when Round Lake's Panthers drop in at the Antioch gym for an 8 o'clock game with the Sequoits.

Antioch's Sequoits rank second in the conference with a 6-3 record, warm on the heels of Warren's Blue Devils, who are leading with a 7-2 record.

(Let's not look too far ahead, but Warren will be here in early March for the last conference game of the season. Could it be a duel for the championship? It all depends on whether Antioch keeps winning, as it did last Saturday, 70-44 over Grayslake. But not losing, as it did last Friday, 72-43 to Grant in a real shocker.)

ANTIOCH WILL BE FAVORED to defeat Round Lake Friday night. The pink-faced Panthers are blushing because they have an 0-8 record in the league.

You might also suspect that the Sequoits were embarrassed last Friday after losing by 29 points to a Grant team which they were supposed to play on even terms.

Antioch coach Roger Andrews summed it up when he said, "Grant was super... great in all phases of the game. They were in control from start to finish."

Grant swished 50 percent of its field goal attempts while Antioch had a cold night, hitting on only 32 percent.

Roger Korjenek and Pete Ploss led Antioch scorers with 12 points each and Chris Oddsen contributed 10.

"Oddsen had one of his best games," Andrews said, "getting eight rebounds, too."

"Grant's defense was tough," Andrews said, "and their rebounding was great as they beat us 38-24 on the boards."

Andrews said he would like to thank the Antioch community for the "fine support of the team... the turnout for the Grant game was terrific and I am sure we will bounce back."

THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT the Sequoits did Saturday night when they went to Grayslake and won by 26 points.

"Our team regrouped with some very good defense, strong rebounding and balanced scoring," the coach said.

Antioch enjoyed a 41-24 lead in the third quarter but Grayslake scored 12 straight points and closed the gap to 41-36. Soon the margin was sliced to 44-40 but, of the next 25 points, Antioch poured in 23 of them and the score was 69-42. The final was 70-44.

Bill Letkey wins basketball contest

If anyone had forecast that Grant would beat Antioch by 29 points in last Friday's basketball game, he would have been carted off to a funny farm.

So, no one came close in last week's Antioch News basketball contest.

But Bill Letkey became the winner by picking Grant to win by eight points.

Bill will be sent the first prize in the contest, a $15 savings account at the Antioch Savings & Loan Association.

SECOND PRIZE, a $10 check (courtesy of Pedersen Bros. Implement Co.) will be mailed to Cathy Tanner, who predicted a six-point victory for the Grant Bulldogs.

There was a tie for third and Tim Huebner won the prize, $5 in cash from Bob's Septic and Cement Service, because he came closest in the tie-breaker — Antioch's Saturday night win over Grayslake.

Erdie Cole, unfortunately, just missed, placing fourth.

ANOTHER CONTEST appears in this week's paper. The trick is to guess by how many points Antioch will beat Round Lake Friday night. (Or will Round Lake beat Antioch. Oh, no! It couldn't happen, could it?)

Ploss got back to his average, scoring 18 points, while Dave Gutowski hit for 13 and Korjenek for 10. Ploss also dominated the boards by collecting 13 rebounds.

"TEAM DEFENSE was a big factor," coach Andrews said. "Holding the Rams to 44 points and was an accomplishment and the team rebounding was just terrific." Antioch confiscated 46 rebounds while Grayslake seized only 22.

"We are still in the conference race and plan to stay there," Andrews said. "It was good to see Dave Gutowski hit for 13 points against Grayslake. He has been taking a beating on defense charges and he really earned the double-figure scoring. Also, Roger Korjenek hit well from the outside and Scott Gallagher played a solid game."

THERE ARE STILL FOUR contenders, maybe five, for the conference title.

These are Friday night's matchups:

Round Lake (0-8) at Antioch (6-3), Warren (7-2) at Grant (5-3), Lake Zurich (5-3) at Grayslake (1-7), and Wauconda (5-3) at Stevenson (4-4).

IF the teams with the best records win, these will be the conference standings after Friday night:

Warren 8-2, Antioch 7-3; Lake Zurich 6-3; Wauconda 6-3, Grant 5-4, Stevenson 4-5, Grayslake 1-8 and Round Lake 0-9.

But as we have learned, the teams with the best records don't always win.

Conference wrestling title is an Antioch-Grant affair

After a disappointing loss to Grant last Thursday night, Antioch's wrestling Sequoias came back on Saturday to blast Wauconda 58-4, Cary-Grove 34-12, and Rockford East 41-5.

Antioch finished the dual meet season with an 18-6 meet record.

The loss Thursday to Grant, 24-18, placed Antioch second in the conference going into this week's conference tournament at Warren.

Antioch finished the season 6-1 in the Northwest Suburban Conference and must win the conference tournament to claim a share of the title.

"Last year we found ourselves in the same position and did a fantastic job in the conference to win the title," said coach Ted DeRousse. "I think we can do the same thing this year. Grant and Antioch have both easily defeated all conference opponents. But our margins of victory have been greater than Grant's. We have a greater tournament potential than Grant. It will not be easy, but we have the team that can do it."

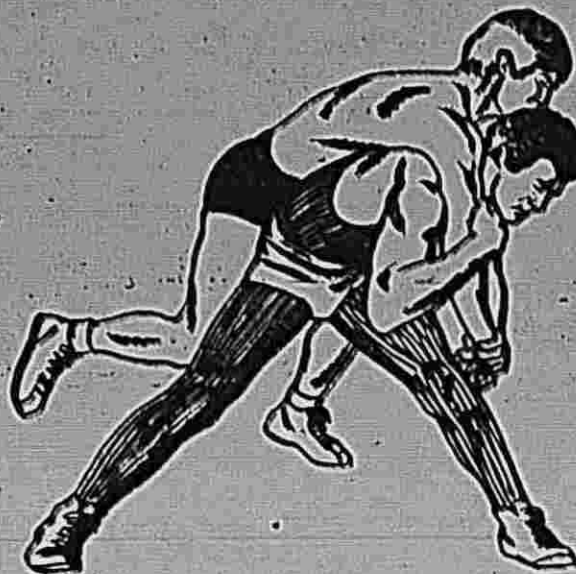

Antioch stars include:

98 lbs. - Glen McCullom, who lost to Grant and Cary-Grove but beat Rockford East and Wauconda. He is 6-1 in the conference.

105 - Dave Unrien has won all four matches and is undefeated in the conference.

112 - Jon Gibson is undefeated in the conference.

119 - Tim Haviland is 6-1 in conference.

126 - Jim Fasnacht also is undefeated in the conference. 132 - Marvin Gibson is undefeated in the conference and leads team with a 30-2 record.

138 - Glen Kaht beat Wauconda's outstanding Ray Jensen on Saturday, 3-2. It was only Jensen's second loss.

185 - Mike O'Hara is 6-0-1 in conference.

Hwt - Ted Bessette is 5-1-1 in the conference.

THE CONFERENCE tournament at Warren will follow this time schedule:

Friday, 6:30 p.m.

Saturday, 12:30, semi-finals; 6:30, finals.

Apache wrestlers capture 1st in tourney

The Antioch Upper Grade Wrestling Apaches captured first place last Saturday in an eight-team tournament at Barrington.

Coach Ken Anderson said the Apaches captured the top spot with Barrington following extremely close behind for second place. Anderson said the Apaches wrestled a fine tournament, with every boy giving a 100 percent effort.

Placing first were: Jeff Nieze at 80 lbs., Tad DeRousse at 90 lbs., John Oelkers at 105 lbs., Andy Lehn at 125 lbs., George Bessette at 135 lbs., Tibor Jung at 145 lbs., and Billy Carney at 155 lbs.

Placing second was Ken Sandrick at 65 lbs.

Placing third were: Bob Tarsitano at 75 lbs., and Steve Case at 95 lbs.

Placing fourth were: Brad Larson at 100 lbs., Tim Prineing at 185 lbs., and Dave Corso at 118 lbs.

The Apaches will compete against Lake Zurich Jan. 30, away, and against Northwood of Woodstock on Feb. 1 away.

On Saturday, Feb. 3, the matmen will travel to Oak Forest, Ill. to wrestle in the eight team Oak Forest invitational, where some of Illinois' best junior high school age wrestlers will be competing.

The Apache wrestling team remains undefeated this season in dual meets.

Wrestling program is planned for grade schoolers

The Antioch High School wrestling coaches, in cooperation with the Antioch Viking junior tackle football program organization, will sponsor a wrestling program for fourth through eighth graders in the Antioch High School district. The program will be run at Antioch High School on Tuesdays and Thursdays by the high school coaching staff.

Head coach Ted DeRousse has announced that the program will be chartered by the Illinois Kids Wrestling Federation and will adhere to the federation's policy of "Fun and Fundamentals."

Students in the Antioch Grade School system (excluding the Upper Grade School because they have a program) Emmons, Grass Lake, Millburn, Lake Villa, Prince of Peace and St. Peter's are invited to attend.

The program is for beginners and is designed to introduce young athletes to America's fastest growing high school sport.

More information can be obtained from your local PE teacher or by contacting any wrestling coach of Antioch High School.

The program will begin Tuesday, Feb. 6 at the high school wrestling room at 3:30 p.m.

Emmons tips Antioch 27-25

The Emmons seventh grade basketball team maintained their perfect record by slipping past the Antioch Upper Grade School Apaches 27-25.

The Raiders' size and strength advantage finally turned the tide in a close contest. Emmons coach Chuck Spillner said.

The lead saw-sawed back and forth throughout the game, with Emmons finally gaining the upper hand.

The Raiders were led in scoring by Rich Striskal with 13 points. Spillner said Striskal did an excellent job while Raider center Jim Mahan ran out the second quarter with three fouls.

Mike Christensen also picked up the slack with aggressive offensive play and a game high 11 rebounds.

The normally high scoring Apaches were held far below their scoring average by an aggressive Emmons defense.

Mahan and Christensen each blocked three shots. Steve Mueller one and Ed Kuligowski came away with several steals.

Antioch was led in scoring by Tom Kozynek with eight points.

With Mahan out of the game, the Apaches used an aggressive full court press to open a three point half-time lead.

The Raiders countered with a half-court press of their own in the third quarter than swung the momentum back to Emmons.

Emmons' cagers nip Antioch 36-33

The eighth grade Emmons Raiders won a close game Jan. 22 with Antioch Upper Grade, when Todd Wilson hit a short jump shot with seven seconds remaining.

Chris Becker blocked an inbound pass following a time out and Wilson recovered the ball to preserve the 36-33 win.

The Apaches built a quick 10-4 lead but Emmons rallied to tie the score with 15 seconds remaining in the first period. The tie did not last long as Brad Herdson hit a 35-foot shot at the buzzer.

The Apaches opened the lead to six points midway through the second stanza. Emmons' coach Mike Mitchell said hot shooting by Steve Haase from the outside and Tim Hartokolis enabled Emmons to close the intermission trailing by two, 21-19.

The second half was more of a defensive struggle than the first. Emmons switched from its man-to-man to a 2-3 zone and Antioch used a combination of a 1-3-1 zone along with a tight man-to-man.

Defensively, the Apaches Tom Anderson turned in a sterling performance.

The Raiders zone allowed Emmons to pull into a 27-27 third period tie.

During the final quarter, the two teams played even until Wilson hit his four-foot shot in the final seconds.

Herdson led the Apaches with 12 points followed by John Andre's nine and Derek Olsen's eight. Hartokolis bagged a game high 16 and he was aided by Haase's 10.

Craig Sheedlin had eight steals to lead the Raiders in that department. Antioch's Anderson led all rebounders with 11.

Emmons' Frank Mahan pulled down nine rebounds and Becker and Hartokolis grabbed off seven and six respectively.

Girls basketball team beats Grant Stevenson

The Antioch girls varsity basketball team beat Grant last week by a 44-36 margin. The Antioch girls were behind 28-12 at half-time, but came back strong to secure the victory. Top scorers for the game were Tracy Manual for Antioch with 16 and Tracy Moore for Grant with 10.

Antioch also defeated

Stevenson last week, 34-42. Leading Antioch scorer was Kathy Bulley with 12.

Brandi Lake beat Antioch Saturday to end their winning streak. They lost 44-38. Top scorers were Kathy Bulley with 12 and Tracy Manual with 10.

They will play at Wauconda Saturday.

What's a little snow?

Last week the village received another dose of snow, which meant more work for the village crew and homeowners, but more fun for kids as they romped in the huge snow banks.

In the right photo, Don Gibbs of Windsor Drive shovels off some of the snow from his roof to avoid any chance of a cave-in.
